COVID-19 Resources for the Army Family

As you travel the web in search of coronavirus information, be alert for fraud. Cybercriminals will undertake extreme measures to separate you from your money. Verify a site's authenticity before providing any personally identifiable information.

Once the Coronavirus Stimulus Plan is implemented, beware of fraud! These payments will come directly from the Internal Revenue Service. Deal only with the IRS. You can find reliable coronavirus stimulus information on the IRS website.

With few exceptions, official U.S. government sites end in .gov and official U.S. military sites end in .mil. If you encounter a site or email address that does not end in .gov or .mil, seek out one that does.

The Army is committed to ensuring the health and safety of the Army family. Use these resources for reliable Army and DoD COVID-19 news and information. This is a partial list of sites of interest to, and with resources for, the Army family. It is not meant to be an all-inclusive list.
